

Short CV

Oliver Y. Chén

My training was in engineering (PhD, Oxford), neurobiology (Honorary Fellow, University College London), psychology (Research Associate, Yale), biostatistics (ScM, Johns Hopkins), theoretical statistics (Research Assistant, Northwestern), and mathematical statistics (MS, Washington). I studied financial engineering at university.